COMPANY PROFILE

SUMMARY

Trevena is a drug discovery company focused on the development of G-protein coupled receptor-targeting pharmaceuticals.

LICENSING AGREEMENTS

In February 2009, Ligand entered into a 2-year agreement with Trevena, to screen Ligand's combinatorial compound library using Trevena's technology for 24 potential targets to develop as G-protein coupled receptor (GPCR) therapeutics. Trevena would be granted exclusive worldwide rights to sublicense active candidates resulting from the collaboration, and Ligand would receive payments based on progression of each chosen target.

EARLY R&D

In February 2010, the company was investigating three G-protein biased GPCR therapeutics for pain, which were in target validation, hit identification, and lead optimization, respectively.

By March 2008, Trevena had licensed a drug discovery platform from Duke University Medical Center.

FINANCIAL

In September 2014, the company entered into a senior secured term loan credit facility providing for up to $35 million of funding, with an interest rate of 6.5% per annum. A total of $2 million was drawn at closing. Trevena had the option to draw the remaining funds in two equal tranches of $16.5 million each, upon positive clinical data in the ongoing TRV-130 and TRV-027 studies. The maturity date for the credit facility was December 01, 2018. At the maturity date, a fee of between 5.25% and 7.0% of the amount borrowed would be due and under certain circumstances, the maturity date might be extended to September 01, 2019.

In January 2014, the company announced the pricing of 8,500,000 shares of common stock priced at US $7.00 per share, and the underwriters were granted a 30-day option to purchase upto 1,275,000 additional shares at the same price. At that time, the offering was expected to close on February 05, 2014. Later that month, the company increased the number of common stock shares in the initial public offering to 9.25 million and priced the offering at $7 per share. The underwriters were granted a 30-day option to buy up to an additional 1,387,500 common stock shares at the same price. The shares began trading on the NASDAQ Global Market under the ticker symbol 'TRVN'. In February 2014, the IPO was closed. In March 2014, the underwriters over-allotment option was partially exercised and an additional 270,449 shares were purchased at a price of $7 per share. The offering was closed on March 06, 2014 with the total issue of 9,520,499 shares. Gross proceeds of approximately $67 million was raised.

In October 2013, Trevena proposed a initial public offering of shares of its common stock. the company also applied to list its common stock on the NASDAQ under the ticker symbol 'TRVN'.

In July 2010, Trevena completed a $35 million series B financing.

In March 2008, Trevena raised $24 million from a series A financing round.

R&D GRANTS

In November 2009, the National Institutes of Health (NIH) awarded Trevena a $7.65 million Grand Opportunity (GO) Grant to further fund the company's work to identify and characterize functionally selective biased GPCR ligands.
